SMS Staff and Students,

Wednesday was another great day at the SMS dig sites and across campus. The site investigators were once again impressed by the contributions, investigation, skepticism and critical thinking skills of SMS students and staff. We should have all site analysis finished by sometime Friday and should have enough time for a celebration to commemorate the great week we have had. Today we will look deeper into aviation, navigation, fundamental principles of flight. Both Dr.'s Mitch and Dana will be in and around campus on Thursday. Thursday's site focus will include reviews of fertilizers, pesticides, legal ramifications of the EPA and regulatory bodies, interdependence, watersheds, 1940's / WWII, mathematical data analysis and much more. Also, for the first time, some of the personal affects, writings and contents of the sealed barrel will displayed at the primary dig site. There will also be a chance for students to explore navigation using magnetic compasses, aspects of map reading and metric measurement.

All busses have arrived on time and all students should be in their 1st period class at this time.

Have a great Thursday!
