

Good morning Sarasota Middle School

Today is Wednesday, March 6, 2019

A few words of wisdom to start your day-
Plato is considered one of the greatest philosophers of Western culture. In 397 b.c., he founded the first university in the history of Europe. It would probably be fair to say that Plato understood a great deal about the importance of education.

Listen to his words to you today:

The direction in which education starts a person
Will determine his or her future life.

Today, ask yourself this: In which direction am I headed with my education? Am I studying hard? Am I doing my best? Am I preparing myself for a successful future? Then remember what Plato says. The choices you make today about your education will determine your future.

Attention National Junior Honor Society members: our next meeting is this Friday, March 8, at 8:45 in the cafeteria. See you there!

Attention students: its National School Breakfast Week. This week we will be giving away one $10.00 Apple I tunes Gift card today and Thursday, and on Friday two will be given away. Students who purchase a School breakfast are eligible for a chance to win a gift card.

“Attention all WEB Leaders! There will be a meeting tomorrow in the café lounge during 8th grade lunch for those leaders interested in helping with the next incoming student tour. See you there!”

All busses have arrived on time and all students should be in their 1st period class at this time.

Students, remember our Panther Pact: be Polite, Prepared, Productive and Safe!

Have a wonderful Wednesday!
